Johan Halim

Johan comes to Ironfish from a background of many years in life insurance and banking, however he has always had a keen interest and passion for property as a growth asset and transitioned across to join Ironfish as a Property Strategist with the Brisbane branch.

After being introduced to Ironfish by a friend and attending a few of our seminars and events, Johan decided he wanted to join the company as he was impressed by Ironfish focus on investment property as a strategy to build wealth and the extensive research undertaken into the property market outlook and drivers.

Ironfish is a great fit for Johan as he is able to combine his pursuit of building a property portfolio for his family, with his desire to work in an area where he can help guide his clients to build the future they are aiming for.
